

XUEFEI DONG

Xuefei is a landscape architect who grew up in a Chinese city with a splendid natural landscape. She is particularly interested in landscape and urban design on a larger scale and within urban contexts. With educational and professional experiences that cover diverse culture backgrounds, she believes a sense of place is created from the relationship between spatial character, human interaction, and a connection with context and environment. Xuefei holds a Master of Landscape Architecture from the University of Texas at Austin.
